

to the other date, 17th October, inserted in the form - thinking it meant any day after the 10th - Should you not have already received the Dividend, and should you not dislike the additional trouble, it would be well perhaps to show them their own Form, and ask whether it would not be advisable, in any future reprint of it, to state expressly that the Dividends cannot be received before the 17th.
Many of the Country Clergy are, like myself, little conversant with the forms of London business, and might not be aware that
