

did for the land left me at Hardwick - as I might at any time resign the living, and then the land goes from me: and succession duty would be claimed again.

I have been hunting up Fleming - at present in vain - but hope to catch him this evening - without any fear of his being a resemblance of the Welshman's horse. -

When a man of general pursuits gets especially attached to two of them, of very different characters, would you not say that his brain had undergone polarization?

I had to be showman the other night here for a little achromatic - $2\frac{3}{4}$ in. I believe. I think 70 or 80 ladies had their peep at D & H. Very pretty & very sheep - (I mean the sight! not despising however the Girls!)

but such miserable child's play compared with the glorious spectacles that pass through the field of my reflector - now valued more than ever from the comparison. But indeed, since its touching by With, it is a splendid tool. -

Nyripi's kind love -

Yours very affect. friend
