

be no dearth if you would only come. You could say so much about the spiritual state of London, & make your sayings so interesting in so many ways. Do please come. —

My wife's best love & I am always,
My dearest Arthur,

Your most affectionate friend

J. W. Keble.

Please bring the other vol. of Keble's Hullington — (the 1st is safe here) & perhaps I shall beg you to convey another little parcel or so. —

Best thanks for the Photograph — all is scuttle here (not coal-scuttle though! — sun-scuttle. —)
